The Hawaiian Original ~ In 1932 at the Maui Soda & Ice Works plant in Wailuku, Maui, Manuel Nobriga began making ice cream from scratch for local ice cream parlors. Everyone loved the velvety smooth texture and the richness of his flavors and the business grew to eventually include 1/2-gallon cartons that folks could enjoy at home. Four decades later in 1970, Manuel's son, David "Buddy" Nobriga, gave ice cream a fitting Maui name -- Roselani. * Today, third generation ice cream maker Cathy Nobriga Kim continues the family tradition, adding innovative island flavours to old-time favourites.

Oh, I never saw this when I was there. I will have to check it out.
Wonderful packaging. Love the tropical colours.
